Abstract

Suicide occurs more often in elders than in younger people, but is still one of the leading causes of death in late adolescence and early adulthood worldwide. This not only results in a direct loss of many young lives, but also has disruptive psychosocial and adverse socio-economic effects. This mini review gives a short overview of the most important risk factors that predispose youths to committing suicide. Key risk factors found were: mental disorders previous

Assignment

Urbanization and problems of housing in urban areas.

Urbanization is closely linked to modernization, industrialization, and the sociological process of rationalization. Urbanization is not merely a modern phenomenon, but a rapid and historic transformation of human social roots on a global scale, whereby predominantly rural culture is being rapidly replaced by predominantly urban culture. Urbanization occurs as individual commercial, and governmental efforts reduce time and expense in commuting and improve opportunities for jobs, education, housing, and transportation.

Introduction :

Urbanization is an index of transformation from traditional rural economies to modern industrial one. It is a progressive concentration of population in urban unit. Urbanization as process of switch from spread-out pattern of human settlements to one of concentration. It is a finite process - a cycle through which a nation passes as they evolved from agrarian to industrial society. Urbanization should be distinguished from urban growth. Urbanization refers to proportion of total national population living in areas classified as urban, whereas urban growth strictly refers to the absolute number of people living in those areas.

Urbanization is relevant to a range of disciplines, including urban planning, geography, sociology, architecture, economics, education, statistics and public health. The phenomenon has been closely linked to globalization, modernization, industrialization and the sociological process of rationalization. Urbanization can be seen as specific condition at a set time (e.g. the proportion of total population or area in cities or towns) or as increase in condition
